About

I'm a Principal Software Engineer with a focus on infrastructure, tooling, and engineering productivity. My expertise includes:

- writing code mostly in Go nowadays, but also with quite a lot of Java experience and a bit of Groovy, Scala, and Python in the past
- developing tooling for operating production environment
- AWS user since 2010
- strong background in building and managing cloud infrastructure, primarily in AWS, but also with exposure to Google Cloud and Azure
- strong background in building CI/CD systems from scratch and significantly improving existing ones
- optimizing end-to-end delivery process from commit to production
